

ODELL STOLE KISS, PALACE IN MEXICO CITY CHARGES IRATE HUSBAND IS TAKEN FOR CARRANZA

Perry Forbes Alleges Fireman Substituted Face for That of a Baby.

ARRANT IS THEN SWORN OUT

Crest Follows, and Justice Crutchfield Will Pass Upon Affair Which Sprang From Friendship That Started in Boarding-House.

Come and let the lady kiss you, boy," Abe Padel, 301 East Marshall Street, said to his wife as he marked the afternoon as he entered. He was marking off Mrs. Perry Forbes, which adorns his own in the boarding-house. The child was willing, and puckered tightly for the salutation. Mrs. Forbes, with womanly instinct, was anxious to make something over the boy, and she, too, puckered.

The two young persons, whom Padel had never seen before, unexpected happened. Instead of a kiss meeting those of the child, they brushed across the lips which were from a short growth of beard. Padel snatched the child away, he alleged, and threw him own feet award for the salutation. Mrs. Forbes ordered he must get his first room at once, and then went in search of her husband, who is employed by the Cosby Transfer Company.

BABIES IS ADVISED TO SECURE WARRANT

Perry was about to start for his home, and for Padel, when he was made of his employer and advised to see a warrant and place the matter in the hands of Justice Crutchfield. The justice was accepted, and a warrant secured.

Then other things began to happen. A warrant was placed in the hands of Patrolman Waldron for execution. He started to make the arrest. On the instant, policemen Dubuque, Williams, and Tracy, who were in the street, came up, and the instant a few minutes after the Waldron left them, they learned that Padel is a fireman located at the Broad Street Engine House, and started to take the arrest. But Patrolman Williams had to "pull the boy" at Ninth and Marshall, and left Dubuque waiting.

When the policemen came, they were absent. Padel, impelled to appear on the street, while Williams is absent, and Dubuque immediately seized him under arrest. Williams refused to discover that the arrest had been made, and that policeman and fireman had disappeared. Patrolman Dubuque continued his search for some time.

According to what the police learned, the affair Forbes has been occupying a room adjoining that of Padel some time. His wife arrived here July first from Wilmington, N. C., several days ago, and the two families are very friendly.

some of the big American Dreadnoughts through at any time.

Any of the foreign warships now in Atlantic and Pacific waters could also make the trip, but the naval plans of the European powers, which have vessels of both coasts of the United States are not known here.

UNINTERRUPTED PASSAGE

No embargoes will face the United States should one of the vessels of the belligerents seek passage. Strict rules are laid down in the treaty for perpetual neutralization of the canal, and every detail will be under direction of Governor Goethals and his staff.

Except in cases of absolute necessity, vessels of belligerents must make inquiries before sailing through the canal. They may not recruit or coal or embark or disembark troops in the zone. These provisions also apply to the terminal waters at both ends of the canal within a limit of three miles.

Twenty-four hours in the limit of time a belligerent vessel can remain within the canal, except in cases of dire emergency, such as when a belligerent cannot depart within two to four hours from the departure of a vessel of war of another belligerent. All of the plant and establishments that are part of the canal are immune from attack or injury by any belligerent. Neutral American pilots will see that neutral ships make no observation of the canal defences.

The principal work remaining to be done in completing the canal is the deepening and widening of the channel through Chiloe Cut, and excavation operations at both approaches.

Measure Introduced by Glass in House Delayed by Wingo, of Arkansas.

WASHINGTON, August 15.—An effort to remove limitations imposed by the Federal reserve act on rediscounching by banks of acceptances based on import and export business was delayed in the House to-day by Representative Wingo, of Arkansas, who declared the measure should be considered by the Banking and Currency Committee.

The bill probably will be put through early next week.

Under the Federal reserve act, member banks may rediscounch with the Federal reserve banks acceptances based on the exportation and importation of goods having less than three months to run provided the amount of such discounts at no time shall exceed one-half of the capital and surplus of the discounting bank. Member banks may discount for their customers similar acceptances running up to six months sight to the amount of one-half of their capital and surplus.

The Glass bill authorizes the Federal Reserve Board in its discretion to permit discounts up to the amount of acceptances to be rediscounched, and would allow reserve banks to pay six months' acceptances.

"With the disturbances caused by the European war," said Chairman Carter Glass, of the House Banking and Currency Committee, to-day, "it is desired that the Federal Reserve Board to facilitate business in this country the way the exportation of cotton and wool, etc., of the organization committee of the Federal reserve system discovered a number of banks have grown up who make a specialty of financing the export trade, which find it necessary to handle acceptances beyond the limitations of the act as passed."

Chairmen added that it is to be understood the new Federal reserve system would be in operation in ninety days.

CARTER GLASS STRONGLY OPPOSES SUGGESTION

WASHINGTON, August 15.—Chairman Carter Glass, of the House Banking and Currency Committee, issued a statement to-day attacking the suggestion that the use of bank notes instead of gold for bank reserve be authorized.

"It seems to me," said his statement, "that this is 'futism' run mad. Furthermore, it suggests that we temporarily should repudiate our gold obligations at home to help certain banks meet their gold obligations abroad, and I do not think the suggestion should be entertained."

This is believed to preface a declaration of war by Japan on Germany, as Teng Tsui, the chief town of the German protectorate of Kiautschau, ceived a long distance telephone message informing him of the tragedy he was prostrated, and declined to discuss it. Later he left for Spring Green.

Wright is one of the best known architects in the Central States. He was estranged from his wife several years ago, after a scandal which linked his name with that of Mrs. Winona Burdwicks Cheney, wife of a neighbor in Oak Park, a suburb. Later Cheney obtained divorce.

Two years ago Wright built a bungalow at Spring Green, Wis., which was called "Love's Cottage" by neighbors. The architect and Mrs. Cheney were popular, and made frequent visits to the house in the woods.

The affair of the Wright and Cheney families first became public in 1898, when Mrs. Cheney and Wright went to Europe. On their return Mrs. Cheney did not go to her home in Oak Park, but she had left her children and her husband Wright, however, went to his family, and reports of forgive ness were current.

A wall separating the Wright home into two apartments was erected. Mrs. Wright occupied one and Wright the other. The children divided their time with the parents.

After a prolonged absence, for divorce charging desertion, on August 2, 1911, an absolute decree was granted. Mrs. Cheney made no defense, and Wright's name was not mentioned.

Shortly before Christmas Wright's bungalow at Spring Green was completed, and just before the holidays, Mr. and Mrs. Cheney, Wright left together for Wisconsin. During a week Wright issued many public statements defending his course in leaving his Oak Park home.

Mrs. Wright took no steps toward divorce, but, with her children, the oldest of whom is now a man grown, remained at home in the Chicago suburb.

Cheney was remarried in 1912.

About this time the two Cheney children, Martha and John, joined Mrs. Cheney at the Spring Green home, and have since lived there.

REPUBLICANS FACE FIGHT

SHALL BARNES OR ROOSEVELT RULE, IS OVERRIDING ISSUE.

Special to The Times-Dispatch.

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 15.—The Republicans are expected to rule the Republican machine. This became today the all-overriding issue among delegates to the State convention, who thronged here in anticipation of an even more arduous struggle than that won by the Colonels four years ago.

His leadership again is challenged by a Republians' Progressive wing, led by Senator Barnes, who has become the Roosevelt man.

Anti-Roosevelt leaders reported that before the convention opens a majority sentiment for Hinman will be so manifest that he will sweep the September primaries.

So bitter is the Barnes-Roosevelt feud to-night that those who prize highly either the hope of factional success or the beginning of a national compromise in Hinman, Root, Sherman, Davis, L. D. Hill, Judge Nathan A. Miller, or anybody else who may be a guarantee of unity.

Hedges, who has escaped the shaft parlors by Roosevelt at Whitman and Barnes at Hinman, is here trying to act as peacemaker, and at the same time secure a point of vantage that will make him the party choice as he was two years ago. Root pleads that his argument against running for the Senate holds good against his standing for Governor.
